

Susie Iliyan is an international television host and a news anchor who has worked in television in the UAE, the U.S., Canada and Nigeria. She made appearances beat-boxing and dancing on Sesame Street's 'The Letter M' and 'The Number 4'. She developed and hosted content for Magic Johnson's network 'ASPIRE', and was a regular host on BET Networks.

At the start of her career, Susie spent 5 years as Dubai's fastest rising celebrity TV talk show host and producer. She co-produced and co-hosted "City Women", a daily women's talks show on City7TV as well as 'Good Morning Dubai' a live daily breakfast show. She has interviewed celebrities Morgan Freeman, Russel Simmons, Boris Kodjoe 'The Real Husbands of Hollywood', Kenya Moore 'The Real Housewives of Atlanta', Melissa Leo 2010 film 'The Fighter', Katrina Bowden '30 Rock', and Amy Landecker 'Law & Order', Duran Duran, Fugeez, Tiesto, David Guetta, and David Morales among other celebrities and hosted the red carpet of the Dubai International Film Festival for E! Entertainment. She was also the original host of MTV Europe's International music show "Salaam".

Susie has been a spokesperson and MC for countless prestigious corporate events and brands: Mandela Day, Rolex Tower, Mini Cooper, Madinat Jumeirah, and the largest sporting event in the Middle East; The Emirates Airline Dubai Rugby Sevens, attracting over 130,000 international fans. Having been deeply immersed in both Middle Eastern and Western culture throughout her life, Susie possesses a social sophistication that bridges various cultures across the globe. Susie currently lives in Nigeria where she is a freelance live news anchor on Arise TV and is a PR consultant for various companies in Nigeria. Throughout her career across the globe Susie constantly gives back to the communities she lives in through educating the youth and fundraising events to support the most vulnerable in society.

<http://www.youtube.com/user/SusieSimone>